

How to Conduct a STEM Workshop with Your Class

Join our virtual workshop and meet Global STEM Ambassador and registered science technician, Emilia Angelillo.

This virtual workshop will address the foundations in finding topics and organizing STEM workshops and activities. Here you will be receiving practical ideas for engaging with students in a creative way. Topics discussed in the workshop will include Emilia's projects such as Edible Poo (Learning objectives: Understand the digestive system and what a stool sample can tell us about our digestive health); Ice Cream in a Bag and more.

Topics in the Workshop
